Family Crossfires, Inc. Ministries

was started by teacher and musician, Rhonda Buhrke, and her husband, LCMS Pastor Richard Buhrke, whose family lives in the Shawno, WI, area. They and their daughters have been developing this series of Christian education materials since 1990. The Buhrke family creates and distributes United Intergenerational Ministry curricula and trains others to use it effectively.

- ◆ UIM turns Sunday Schools into Caring Family Groups.
- ◆ UIM benefits and blesses every Sunday School, but is perfect for small Sunday Schools.
- ◆ UIM is affordable. It is offered for a suggested donation.
- ◆ UIM is much more than just Sunday School. It is ministry on top of ministry.
- ◆ UIM offers a non-threatening familiar Sunday School format, yet is ground breaking in all of the help it offers to generations, through the wisdom and power of God's Word.

"I have been using UIM materials for the past 3 years for our Summer Sunday school. It has worked very well, especially with a smaller congregation that has a wide breadth of attendance during the summer months. There is more material than you'll ever use in one session which is great. You can tailor it to any mix of adults and children. As the Pastor, I can lead the class and have volunteers each week prepare the craft. It's like having a mini-VBS every Sunday and everyone who attends loves it. It's a great blessing to smaller churches and even larger congregations who want to break up into smaller groups. It works for everyone. I'll definitely keep using the materials."

Pastor Dennis Ouellette, Christ Lutheran Church, Brownsburg, IN

These two identical workshops are sponsored by the Congregational Services Department of the Indiana District-LCMS, with the goal of encouraging and assisting pastors and lay leaders who are looking for ways to have a more effective ministry for children and families.
